PROJECTS

Product Teardown on Clash of Clans| Figma, Competitive Product Analysis

May'25-Jun'25

- Conducted an end-to-end product teardown of Clash of Clans, analyzing gameplay loops, progression systems, engagement mechanics, monetization strategy, and UI/UX to identify key drivers of long-term player retention.
- Mapped user journeys, performed heuristic evaluations, and benchmarked competing games to uncover recurring design, reward, and economy patterns influencing engagement and lifetime value.
- Synthesized findings into 10+ actionable insights on visual feedback, reward structures, and progression pacing, delivering data-backed UX recommendations and wireframes using Figma.

AI-Based Directory Management System| Python, REST APIs

Feb'25-Mar'25

- Developed a directory management system that automates data ingestion, organization, deduplication, tagging, and NLP-based search to improve information retrieval efficiency.
- Implemented a full-stack solution using Python, Node.js, React, PostgreSQL, REST APIs, and Docker, focusing on clean architecture, scalability, and usability.
- Reduced manual effort and improved search relevance by applying basic NLP techniques (tokenization, keyword matching, text normalization) and rule-based automation.

ÅUM- The Third Eye Chakra| Figma, Responsive & Accessible Design

Jan'25-Apr'25

- Designed an accessibility-focused UI/UX for a mental health wellness website, creating intuitive user journeys and calm visual layouts to support stress-sensitive and anxious users.
- Executed user research and translated insights into wireframes, prototypes, and a consistent design system using Figma, ensuring clarity, inclusivity, and responsive behavior across devices.
- Improved usability and user trust by reducing cognitive load, simplifying navigation, and applying inclusive visual design principles for seamless access to therapy resources and self-help content.
